

SKATE RAGS FALL 1991

In 1985 Skate Rags began sewing up a padded short with the vertical skater in mind. Our team with Mike McGill at the helm put our slogan "designed to fit and survive" to the test with the tricks of the day. It worked! The clothing took the wipeouts better than the skaters. Keeping in mind that most skaters are involved in activities other than slamming we designed and expanded the line with the same 100% Cotton twills that proved to be comfortable and wear resistant. Once again it worked. Skaters shunned the pop colors of the surf crowd and went after a look that had its roots in the thrift store.

Let's face it, everyone wants to look stylish from the grommet up to the King and the garments in our line will be in style from one season to the next and years beyond. Skaters all have style, some good, some bad - we try to make everyone look good before they drop in. The light and dark side images that are our graphics equal the rush of skateboarding that comes from a commitment to make or munch. Dark colors, eerie earth tones make up the parts of the color wheel we use to mix and match to achieve style status.

As we roll through the 90's and the terrain and tracks change we have also evolved our line to match the needs of the all around skater. Who wants to miss on skating the perfect ditch, pool or ramp just because a costume change was needed? Armed with your skate in hand confident in your own abilities, why worry about anything else? Whether you're ordering a #3 combination plate from Roberto's or Ollie blunt sliding your local curb our line of shorts, pants, knits and jackets reflects the identity of a skater.

Skate Rags colors for Fall '91 feature Egg, Concrete, Asphalt, Bruise Blue, Dirt Brown and Dingy (din'ji) Green. These are all earth tones and muted colors. Unlike neon colors these are not environmentally destructive to the earth or you.

Recidivism, the tendency to relapse into a former pattern of behavior was proved a truism by Dr. J.L. Proteani using our pro series garments. Dr. Proteani documented a 99% tendency of the pro short owner to purchase the pant, in laboratory experiments. Fleece twill pant with three pockets and the mark of Omar and Wade. Sigmund would be proud.

KA11-502 SKATE SHOE

Skate Rags has developed what we consider to be the most advanced shoe to date for skaters, with tough suede uppers and an extra layer of abrasion protection in selected areas.

This sole contains natural rubber that is heat treated for additional durability and grip enhancement. The sole design incorporates Skate Rags unique "Performance Plane" edge which allows lateral movement without the usual edge drag.

The vulcanized construction of this shoe constitutes the most durable method of manufacture for today's skateboarders.
